

Smokefree Policies in Multi-Unit Housing: Steps for Success

A free new resource from the American Lung Association!

Are you interested in how to make your apartment building smokefree? Wondering how to educate and mobilize your neighbors or tenants? There's an online course for that –

Smokefree Policies in Multi-Unit Housing: Steps for Success!

As part of our Smokefree Housing Initiative, the American Lung Association worked with tobacco control and multi-unit housing experts from around the United States to create this course. Smokefree Policies in Multi-Unit Housing: Steps for Success is an online curriculum designed to give property managers, residents and public health advocates the knowledge and skills they need to enact smokefree air policies in multi-unit housing properties such as apartments and condominiums across the nation.

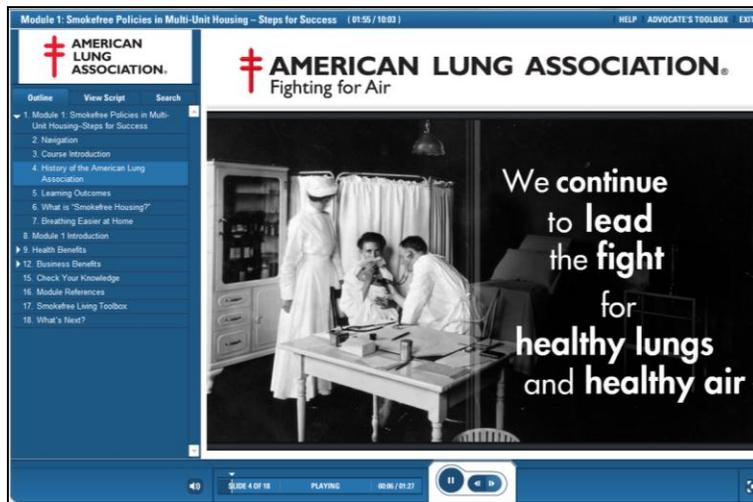

After completing this course, participants will be able to:

- ✦ Communicate the health and economic impact of secondhand smoke in multi-unit housing
- ✦ Engage with building managers, property owners, policymakers, residents and other stakeholders to adopt smokefree multi-unit housing policies
- ✦ Plan and implement a successful smokefree multi-unit housing policy
- ✦ Identify resident rights and responsibilities, as well as options for providing services to help smokers quit
